

Bart & Associates selects ASC's Contract Management Solution

Ottawa, Ontario, (October 3, 2008). — Advanced Software Concepts Inc. (ASC), provider of tailored, Contract Lifecycle Management (CLM) solutions, announced today that U.S. based Bart & Associates Inc, (B&A); a premier enterprise software solutions integrator has selected ASC Contracts™ as their contract management solution.

Bart & Associates selected ASC Contracts, to deliver their centralized, web-based Contract Management System (CMS). ASC's overall selection was due to the flexibility of ASC Contracts, the short time to delivery, and ASC's very strong domain expertise in customer specific contract lifecycle management solutions in the IT sector.

Using a secure web access, the B&A CMS will automate notifications including renewal and expiry notices and store all documents including signed contract images electronically in a centralized, fully managed and hosted environment with full on-line audit, searching and reporting capability to ensure key metrics are being met. Key benefits for B&A include significant cost savings through operational efficiencies, higher employee productivity and greater control of contracts and processes.

"We are very pleased to be the successful CLM solutions vendor for B&A's contract management needs. Our objective is to ensure that ASC Contracts allows Bart & Associates to streamline and automate 'their' contract management process. Simplified contracting processes allows B&A to improve productivity and manage their spending better" said Shawn King, President and CEO of ASC.

The platform's advanced query and reporting tools permit sales, product, finance, offer development and legal departments to quickly analyze current contract data, assess sales cycles, and forecast trends from a complete and centralized repository of contractual information. The CLM platform also provides organizations with the means to ensure compliance with contract terms and reduce the costs associated with processing and handling contracts.
